The search ended with rescue of the last five survivors of the disaster, from which two men had been rescued earlier, and with removal of the bodies of the other 18 miners killed in the blast. Mine Blast Toll 18; 7 Are Found Alive

By REID G. MILLER

MOAB, Utah (AP)—Five more trapped miners were rescued alive and in good condition Thursday night, but 10 others were found dead.

The final toll was 18 killed.

Seven survived; two were rescued earlier.

The five found Thursday night were in surprisingly good condition in the same deep tunnel from which the other two escaped Wednesday morning, the day after 25 miners were caught 3,000 feet down by an explosion.

Eight men were already known dead when two rescue teams started a now-or-never search for the remaining 15 late in the afternoon.

Within 90 minutes, June Crawford, chief engineer of the Texas Gulf Sulphur Co., owner of the potash mine, announced emotionally: "Five survivors have been found in the east shaft. The men are walking out of that drift!"

Then they came by the lift, grimy but smiling, in such good condition there was little need of treatment. And one of them, Grant Eslick, said, "Sure, I'm ready to go back to mining."

Last 10 Dead

Three hours after the rescue, Crawford had to tell the tearful wives and parents still waiting by the mine what most of them had feared: The last 10 men in the other tunnel where the blast occurred were dead.

Amid some miners' charges that safety precautions were lax at the mine plans were announced for a joint state-federal investigation starting Monday. A state official said: "We'll subpoena and question everyone who might have anything to say."

The last five survivors owed

Bova Hunt Spies Possible Body In Fellin's Chamber

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP)—A man will be lowered today down the escape hole from where miners David Fellin and Henry Throne were rescued Tuesday to see if Louis Bova is in the same cavern 308 feet underground.

H. B. Charnbury, state secretary of mines, said the decision was made after a television camera lowered into the chamber showed "what appears to be a man's body."

Charnbury, at the scene of the mine in nearby Shepton, told a news conference "as a result of seeing the television this morning it was decided, though there was not unanimous agreement, that we think we have enough evidence for someone to go down the hole."

"The plans are in motion and someone has been chosen," he said, adding the identity of the man — "a pretty husky boy" — would be kept secret for the present.

Charnbury said he hoped the descent down the 17½ inch wide shaft would be made this afternoon, at a time still undetermined.

Charnbury had visited Fellin, 58, in his room at the Hazleton State Hospital before dawn today and showed him six pictures. These were of the cubicle where the two miners had waited for 14 days until they were pulled to the surface Tuesday.

Fellin could not be reached directly for comment.

Ira Mills, state commissioner of hospitals, said "Fellin told me later I don't feel so good" and is definitely very confused now."

Fellin Not Told

Charnbury and Mills both said that Fellin was not told about the spotting of the body or image of a man in the TV picture.

Charnbury said the camera, raised up from the 308-foot shaft was being re-adjusted and would again be lowered into the hole for a closer look at the object.

The unidentified object first was sighted early today by Dan Bova, a brother of the miner missing since the cave-in, Aug. 13.

Same Chamber

But because the picture came from the same chamber where Fellin, 58, and Throne, 28, had been trapped 14 days before their rescue, most people — before Charnbury held his news conference — treated Dan Bova's observation with skepticism.

Both Fellin and Throne had said they did not see Louis Bova, 54, from the time of the cave-in until they were hauled to safety more than 300 feet on Tuesday.

Fellin and Throne couldn't be reached for comment.

A hospital spokesman said Fellin had been awakened by Charnbury shortly after 1 a. m. and shown six pictures and asked to identify objects in them.

"Fellin is in no shape to talk to anyone now," he said.

Still pictures also were taken by a 35 mm camera lowered into the Fellin-Throne chamber, and some of these — showing objects and timbers — later were released to the press.

Still photographs of the television monitor were not permitted. Charnbury told the news conference, "If we see fit, someone will go down there to take a real close look."

The earlier report that a human form had been sighted said that it was in a sitting position, head bent over drawn up knees.

Fellin and Throne were in total darkness in the chamber for five days before a six-inch lifeline hole was drilled to them and they were given light.

Reported Elsewhere

Both have insisted since rescue that Bova was alive, trapped some distance away from where they were and separated by a wall of coal and debris.

The TV camera had sent back pictures of remarkable clarity. As Charnbury described it, the TV picture appeared to show a man propped up against a wooden mine support.

Charnbury said that what appeared to be a miner's helmet was on the head and there seemed to be a pair of boots "with legs in them."

"I couldn't believe what I saw," Charnbury said. "I was shocked."

Hopes of finding Bova apparently remained mostly in the big hole drilled to a spot where Fellin had estimated Bova might be found. Five holes have been drilled around that area, hitting voids at various levels. Each void is believed to be a side tunnel off the main mine shaft.

Cuba Alerts Defenses In New Invasion Scare

Students Defiant Of U. S. Threats For Cuban Tour

NEW YORK (AP)—Fifty American students who defied a State Department ban on travel to Cuba returned by plane from Madrid Thursday night, many of them still defiant of U.S. policies.

Some of the students staged a "stand-in" at Idlewild Airport to protest a government announcement that their passports would be invalidated.

The "stand-in" ended two hours later when they were told their passports would not be marked invalid. However, each student was presented with a State Department letter noting that his or her passport had been suspended because of the trip to Cuba.

"We consider this another victory," said Lee Levi Laub of New York, a former Columbia University student.

Ten of the students were subpoenaed to appear Sept. 12 before the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

When the group left their plane, most of them walked into the Customs Building quietly.

One Kisses Ground

But one student, not identified, fell to his knees and kissed the ground.

A spokesman for the group said five students decided not to take part in the Idlewild demonstration. The spokesman added that only about five "disliked what they saw in Cuba."

Larry Phelps, one of those served with a subpoena, said he is from North Carolina and is a graduate of the University of North Carolina.

"I can't understand why I was served," Phelps said. "Of course, I'll have to go there (Washington)."

Philip Luce of New York City contended that in going to Cuba the students had exercised their constitutional rights and had violated no rules or laws. He referred to the Cuban visit as "a magnificent experience to all."

"The United States restricts travel to Cuba, with which it has no diplomatic relations."

Integrated Schools

Richard Thorne of Berkeley, Calif., a Negro, told newsmen: "I saw schools in Cuba and no discrimination. The party leaders were honest."

Don Raiman, a University of California student, remarked: "The people have an unprecedented enthusiasm for Fidel Castro. They have not lost their zeal for the revolution."

The students who originally numbered 59, went first to Czechoslovakia, then Havana. They went to Madrid from Havana last Sunday.

Of the original 59, one died in Cuba, three remained there, one returned earlier to Boston, and four decided to stay in Madrid a bit longer.

Nearly 4 Million State Motorists To Take Highways

By The Associated Press

The Automobile Club of Michigan predicts some 3,750,000 Michigan motorists will take to the highways during the three-day Labor Day weekend starting tonight and indicates that the farther the motorists get from home, the safer he will be.

Auto Club Touring Manager Jerry E. Fisher says too many drivers believe the most accidents happen away from home at high speeds.

"This just isn't true," said Fisher. "Studies show that three of four deaths occur within 25 miles of home and more than one half of injurious or fatal accidents happen at speeds less than 40 miles an hour."

The National Safety Council has estimated that between 430 and 520 Americans may die in traffic accidents over the weekend. Michigan State Police figures show 26 persons died in 21 accidents in the state over the last Labor Day period.

The Auto Club says that this year motorists who want to, can travel farther, safer and in less time than ever before.

Fisher pointed out that while the majority of motorists probably will confine their travel to nearby parks or areas, "at least 10 per cent more motorists than ever before will be taking longer trips, thanks to the new freeways."

He said Michigan now has 1,080 miles of partial and limited access freeways, with 225 miles completed since last Labor Day. Much of this 225 miles bypasses such major cities as Lansing, Grand Rapids, Muskegon and Pontiac or forms a connector between different interstate systems.

The Auto Club said motorists should remember that, weather and traffic volume permitting, it takes about one and a half hours to drive 100 miles on all freeways and two hours to drive the same distance on two-lane highways.

The Auto Club offered these six tips for safe holiday driving:

—Allow plenty of time; on long trips make frequent stops.

—Be sure your car is in good mechanical condition, with properly adjusted brakes, good tires, lights and turn signals operational and windshield wipers functioning properly.

—Use seat belts, if you have them.

—Drive in keeping with road, weather and traffic conditions.

—Make allowances for unpredictable driver and pedestrian actions, giving yourself and others an extra margin of safety.

—Make courtesy your watchword.

Tito Says He's Tied To Moscow

VELENJE, Yugoslavia (AP) — With Premier Khrushchev looking on from the sidelines, President Tito declared today Belgrade and Moscow are united on all major world problems.

Tito denounced Red China as undermining world communism and promoting racism and declared: "We shall fight against all those attempts. . ."

He spoke out after Khrushchev accepted honorary membership in the miners collective of this Slovenian lignite mining center and donned a miner's uniform to listen to Tito's speech to a crowd of 30,000.

For Tito it was clearly a triumphant high point of Khrushchev's visit to Yugoslavia, the Communist maverick buried out of the Eastern bloc 15 years ago for defying Moscow control.

It was Tito's first major public speech since Khrushchev arrived in Yugoslavia 11 days ago and came two days after he and Khrushchev ended strategy conferences at Brioni.

Tito said Red China is "pseudo - revolutionary" and pledged:

"We shall fight against all those attempts which try to deviate Socialism from the road of Marxism-Leninism onto the road of quasi-revolution, onto the road of racism and anarchism."

Lamprey Battle Victory Shapes

WASHINGTON (AP) — William C. Herrington, a State Department spokesman on fish and wildlife, told senators Thursday the experts are winning a battle in the Great Lakes with the lamprey eel.

Through use of a chemical which kills the young eels in their spawning streams, Herrington said, most of the lampreys have been eliminated from Lake Superior and the controls next will apply to Lake Michigan.

Herrington asked a Senate Appropriations Subcommittee to restore $50,450 which the House cut from a $1,051,050 fund needed to carry on the lamprey battle under the Great Lakes Fishery Commission.

He said Canada supplies about one-third of the funds and will do this on Lake Michigan "even though in this lake the United States obtains all the benefits."

Central America Nations Watched For Refugee Raid

By DANIEL HARKER

Associated Press Staff Writer
HAVANA (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government put its armed forces on a state of alert today and posted bigger concentrations of soldiers and militia men at strategic points throughout Havana.

Armed forces had been put into a "state of preparation" Thursday, but beefed-up military measures were reported then only outside the capital and not in Havana.

The new moves followed intelligence reports of possible incursions by anti-Castro exiles against installations on the North Coast. According to military intelligence, these raids would be somewhat larger than the hit-and-run attacks made by exiles recently.

Communications Cut

In San Jose, Costa Rica, reports circulated of unusual activity among Cuban exiles in Costa Rica and Nicaragua. Manuel Artime, refugee leader who participated in the abortive Bay of Pigs invasion in April 1961, arrived in Managua, Nicaragua, to confer with anti-Castro exiles, sources there was no evidence of alarm in Havana, but tight security measures were reported outside the capital.

Fear Raid Repetition

The Cuban command apparently braced for a repetition of a recent series of hit-and-run raids. The last occurred Aug. 19 at a metal plant on the north coast where there are many oil refineries and factories.

The Castro government has accused the United States of being directly responsible for the raids. It said the forays proved there was a new plan of aggression against Cuba and said Cuban defenses would be strengthened.

A spokesman for a Cuban exile group called Mambises Commandos told newsmen in Guatemala City his organization made the Aug. 19 raid. He said the commandos operated from secret bases in the Caribbean and from inside Cuba.

Soviet Activity

Cuban refugees arriving in Florida have reported Soviet troop activity in the Cuban capital. They said bridges and strategic points around Havana have been taken over by Soviet soldiers, causing some apprehension among Fidel Castro's forces.

At a news conference Aug. 29, President Kennedy said there had been a further decline in the number of Soviet troops in Cuba the last few months, but added it was difficult to say how many remained.

Kennedy said the primary emphasis of the remaining troops apparently was for training purposes and not as concentrated military units.

Three Children Burn To Death In Detroit Home

DETROIT (AP)—Three children perished in their upstairs bedroom when fire struck a 1½ story home in northwest Detroit Thursday night.

Dead were 4-year-old Michelle Wills, her 3-year-old brother James Jr., and 18-month-old brother Martin.

They were the only children of James Wills, 26, a gas station attendant, and his wife, Shirley, 26, who escaped the flames.

The parents were sleeping in the basement when the blaze broke out, authorities said.

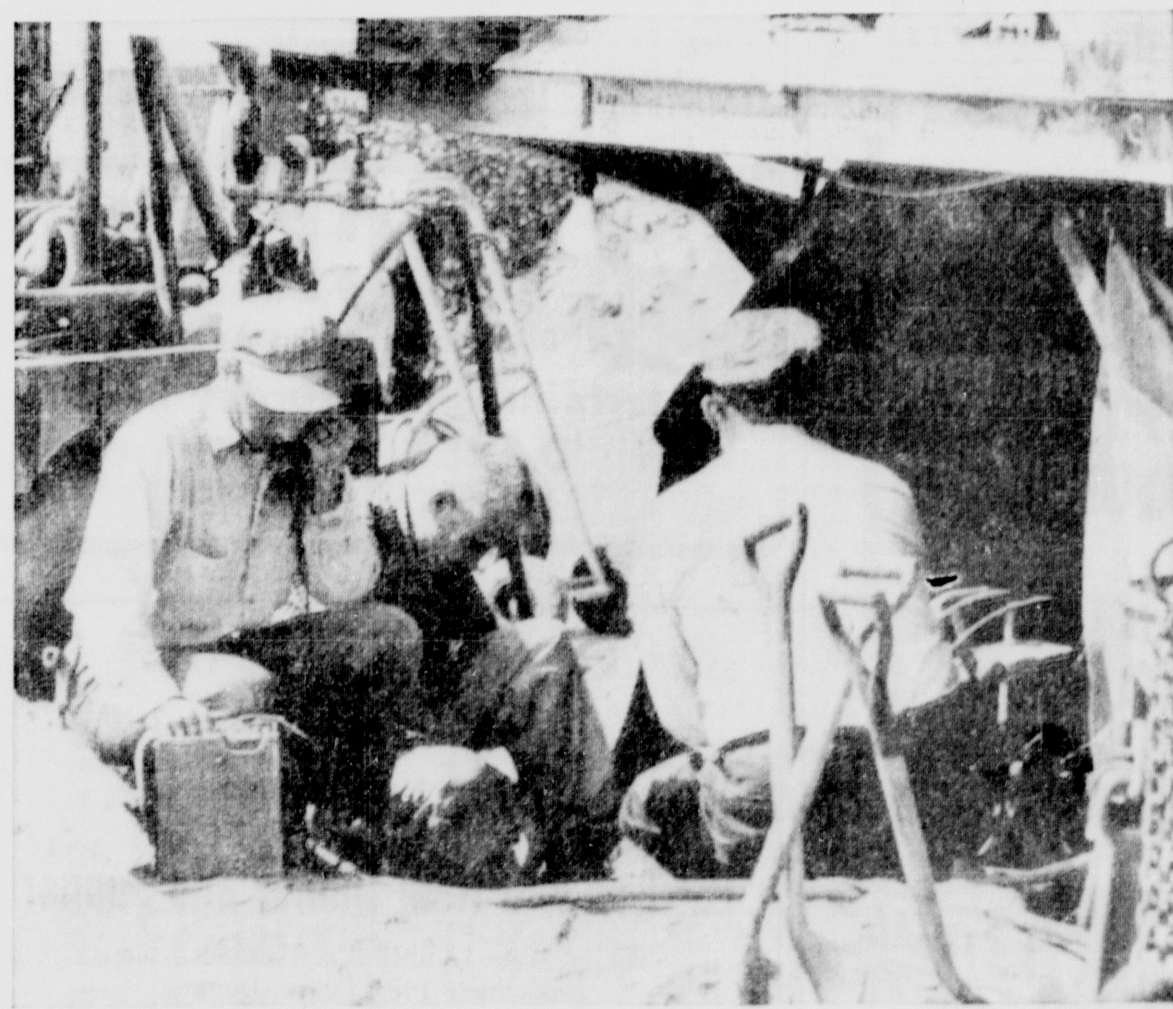

Wills told police he had been smoking in a stuffed armchair in the living room a few hours before the fire.

A neighbor, Philip Paquin, 29, awakened the parents. Paquin said he tried to get to a stairway leading to the upstairs bedroom but was beaten back by "a swell of heat and smoke." Other neighbors also tried to rescue the children.

The youngsters died from burns and suffocation, doctors said.

Latest development in the search has been a report that a TV camera lowered into the chamber where Bova's two rescued companions were trapped pictured what appeared to Dan Bova, brother of Louis, to be a man's body. Army Turncoat Leaves China

HONG KONG (AP)—Albert Belhomme, a U. S. Army turncoat in the Korean War, came out of Red China today, disillusioned with communism.

The former sergeant from Ashland, Pa., entered Hong Kong accompanied by his Chinese wife, Hsio Ying, 28, and their three sons, ranging from 1 to 6 years. All looked fit and happy.

Belhomme, 34-year-old native of Belgium, said he planned to take his family to Antwerp, Belgium, in a few days. He said his mother still lives at Ashland.

Sources at Ashland, however, said Belhomme's mother had left there some years ago, that her whereabouts was not known, and that the sergeant had no other relatives there.

He was the second turncoat to cross the border this month after nearly 10 years in Communist China. The other, Lowell Skinner of Akron, Ohio, left his Chinese wife behind and returned to the United States.

"I was burned politically," Belhomme told newsmen at the border. "I was politically disillusioned."

"My main concern now is my family. I want my children to have a better future."

Ambulance Service In Jeopardy Here, Sabourin Reports

The private operation of ambulance service for the people of the city and county is proving unprofitable and unless some public subsidy is forthcoming the service will be discontinued, Kemp Sabourin told the Escanaba City Council last night.

Meeting informally with the Council, City Manager George Harvey and Sheriff Cully Johnson, Sabourin unsuccessfully sought to turn the keys to the ambulances over to them.

Today Sabourin will confer again with Prosecuting Attorney Nicholas P. Chapekis in an effort to gain county cooperation in working toward a solution of the ambulance service problems.

They Can't Pay

Sabourin has operated the business for more than four years and has seldom refused a call. "They're

Seek Solution

Kemp's Ambulance Service was to suspend at about 1:30 p. m. today with discontinuance of its telephone service.

City and county officials were to confer this afternoon on some method means of solving the problem.

Prosecuting Attorney Nicholas P. Chapekis said the county is not obligated to supply ambulance service, but townships and cities do have authority under statute to operate or subsidize ambulances.

City Manager George Harvey said he was seeking to have Chapekis and City Attorney John G. Erickson get together in an examination of the situation.

In emergencies, when people need an ambulance, even to take an elderly woman to the hospital, you can't very well refuse," he told city councilmen after close of the regular session last night in City Hall.

"I'm probably soft-hearted, but when someone calls up and says their grandmother is sick and has to be taken to the hospital, I can't refuse the service because they say they're not sure they can pay," he added.

The business hasn't paid out because of the number of uncollected bills. "You can't get blood out of a stone," Sabourin said.

His costs in the operation of the service are high. Insurance premiums, renewal of equipment, personnel, gas and oil, etc. There is difficulty in finding and keeping drivers, Sabourin pointed out.

Stephenson School Electors To Vote Millage Sept. 9

STEPHENSON—The Board of Education of the Stephenson Consolidated Schools has announced that a special school election will be held Monday, Sept. 9, for the qualified and registered voters to vote on the proposition of increasing the millage by one-half (1/2) of one mill for a period of one year.

The schools were allocated the minimum requirement of 8 mills by the County Tax Allocation Board. Then later the State Tax Commission revised the allocation and allocated 7.5 mills to the schools. The loss of one-half a mill would seriously affect the financial condition of the school system because it would not be entitled to its full share of state aid if it does not levy the full 8 mills. A loss of one-half of one mill would mean a total loss of $18,223 to the school district.

The increase of one-half of one mill would mean an increase of 50 cents for each $1,000 of state equalized valuation. In other words, a taxpayer who has his property assessed for $3,000 would pay a tax of $1.50 for one year.

Any person who has registered in the school district by Aug. 9, is a citizen of the United States, 21 years of age, and a resident of the State for six months and of the school district for 20 days prior to the election may vote.

A voter does not have to own property listed on the assessment rolls to vote on this proposition. Voting will be from 7 a. m. to 8 p. m., in four precincts, Lake Township Hall, Holmes Township Hall, Daggett Township Hall and the Stephenson Library Building.

Accepted the low bid of Mobile Oil Co., St. Paul, to supply the city with between 65,000 and 75,000 gallons of regular gasoline at 12.83 cents per gallon. The bid was the lowest of three and the quantity of gasoline is sufficient to serve the city's needs for one year. Previous low bids on smaller quantities were 13.5 cents per gallon.

Bids for street lighting equipment, opened at a previous meeting, were acted on with the recommendation of city department heads. Morley Murphy, a local bidder, although $14 higher than Westinghouse was awarded the contract to supply the city with 28 luminaires at a cost of $2,114. The local bidder was favored because of the slight differential in bids.

The low bid of Rahr Supply Co., Manitowoc, $11,040 for wire, was accepted; as was the low bid of $4,135 from Great Lake Concrete Pole Co., Detroit, for concrete poles.

The materials are for lighting S. 23rd St. south to about 8th Ave. in the section given four-lane treatment by the state highway department.

Police Patrols Swing Into Action For Long Holiday

With the long Labor Day weekend just around the corner, State Police started intensified patrols at noon today in an effort to cut down on the annual holiday toll of deaths and injuries.

Commander of the Gladstone Post, Sgt. Hugh E. Pope, said that all pass days for the period from noon today until midnight Monday have been cancelled. In addition, two members of the local National Guard unit Sgt. Walter Mokszyche of Ford River and Sgt. Fern Dahlgren of Gladstone, will be assigned to augment the police patrols.

Sgt. Pope said the maximum coverage will be in operation during the hours between 3 and 9 p. m. when traffic is expected to be the heaviest. "Assignments will be generally on the state trunk-line systems with special attention given to high accident areas. However, patrols will also be assigned on primary county roads, those carrying heavier traffic, as needed," he said.

Detective Sgt. William Simmons of the District Headquarters in Marquette, will take over the desk duties at the Gladstone Post to relieve an officer for patrol work.

According to the Gladstone Post Commander, there will be six patrols in operation daily from 3 to 9 p. m. The last patrol will curtail operation at 3 a. m.

Sgt. Pope pointed out that there were 51 people killed in the state during the period from Aug. 5-11, the worst record in three years, and that 32 persons were killed in the 54-hour period from Aug. 9-11, also an unusually bad record.

"It is our hope," said the police officer, "that these figures will serve as a reminder to motorist what can happen when they fail to adjust to conditions, or when they fail to comply with traffic

Marinette County Votes Hospital And College Aid

MARINETTE — The Marinette County Board of Supervisors gave the go-ahead signal here in a special meeting on Thursday to two development projects by assuring financing for an addition to Marinette General Hospital and a new campus for the Marinette Extension unit of the University of Wisconsin.

The two projects will get husky assistance from Marinette County banks which will loan the sponsor the money in a 10 year program at 3 per cent to permit immediate start on the developments. Both projects have been under study for months and have top priority in the county's program of development.

(Wisconsin's tax structure differs from that of Michigan and so the county board is the financial sponsor for University Extension buildings. Marinette County is also the owner-operator of Marinette General Hospital.)

The board tabled a proposal for a combination city-county office building as not urgently needed now.

It gave its approval to acquisition of a new campus site and construction of housing (probably on the Bay Shore) for Marinette's University Extension unit, which has provided a two year program of college work in the Garfield School Building, also shared with the Marinette Vocational School. This project will cost $400,000. Marinette's is the only Wisconsin University Extension unit without its own campus. The new unit is expected to boost enrollment from 65 to about 200 students.

The project was studied by a Marinette Chamber of Commerce Committee on Higher Education chaired by Roger Derusha, and a special county board committee headed by Robert Angwall.

The hospital addition will call for $400,000 from the county, get $350,000 from federal Hill Burton hospital aid funds and other aids to make up a $900,000 project fund. It will seek Accelerated Public Works help. A 40-bed wing for elderly patients and a new department of pediatrics are main parts of the program.

The hospital is administered by a board composed of Adlow U. Stearns, Charles Goldberg and Roy Rubie, and the hospital is administered by Kenneth VanBree.

Kennedy Blames GOP When Demo Colleagues Rebel

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has a tendency to political amnesia when his Democrats join Republicans to do him in. He finds it easier to remember what the Republicans did.

He said once Republicans have made "no" a political program, but so have a lot of his Democrats.

The country has in effect three political parties — Democrats, Southern Democrats, and Republicans — just because the Southerners have gone against him so many times.

They operate under the Democratic label but can make the Democratic party's campaign promises look like balloons in a tack factory any time it suits them, which is often, to clasp hands with Republicans.

Two recent examples: 1. Southern Democrats, against Kennedy's civil rights program from the start, are expected to try to filibuster it to death.

2. Just last week they harpooned him when the House voted to cut foreign aid $585 million below what he asked.

Demos Not Blamed

Kennedy that same afternoon rushed to denounce the Republicans for the blow. But they could not have done it if a big bunch of Democrats hadn't joined them. The Democrats have such a majority over the Republicans in both houses of Congress they could put through any program Kennedy wanted — provided they stuck together — even if all the Republicans voted no. They don't stick together.

In the 435-seat House, with three vacancies, Democrats outnumber Republicans 256-176. In the 100-seat Senate the lineup is 67 Democrats, 33 Republicans. On foreign aid in the House this was how the voting went:

Against the cut: 188 (172 Democrats, 16 Republicans); for the cut: 222 (66 Democrats, 156 Republicans). If only 18 of those 66 Democrats had stuck with Kennedy the vote would have been 204 for the cut but 206 against.

The overall aid bill then went to the Senate on a final 224-186 vote.

Medicare Killed

There would have been no cut. All but three of the 66 Democrats lining up with the Republicans were from Southern or border states. This defection of the South has haunted Kennedy. There was a shining example of it last year. That was when the Senate, with Democrats outnumbering Republicans 64-36, killed Kennedy's program of medical care for the aged. That majority of 28 could have swamped the Republicans on any issue.

But this happened on Medicare. The vote to kill was 52-48, with 21 Democrats and 31 Republicans doing the killing. All but 4 of the 21 Democrats were Southerners. If just 3 of the 21 had stayed with their party the bill would have carried.

Kennedy made this a campaign issue in the 1962 elections, blaming "nearly all the Republicans and a handful of Democrats" who joined them for his defeat. It was more than a handful. It was almost a third of all the Senate Democrats.

Demos Vote GOP

Not long before the Medicare defeat Kennedy made an admission at a news conference which pretty frankly acknowledged the Democratic party is not the single party it pretends to be.

"We should realize that some Democrats have voted with the Republicans for a good 25 years, really since 1938. So we have a very difficult time on a controversial piece of legislation in securing a working majority."

Came the elections. They didn't change much. The Democrats retained just about the same huge majorities, although Kennedy had asked for even bigger ones. He ruefully admitted any time he offers a controversial bill he'll win or lose by three or four votes.

Still, Kennedy won't fight with Congress. He never has. He just complains occasionally, particularly about the Republicans. He said: "There is no sense in raising hell and then not being successful."

This week, after his complaint about the Republicans' part in cutting foreign aid, Republican Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona cited some of Kennedy's own record on foreign aid when he was a Democratic senator.

He listed four occasions between 1953 and 1958 when Kennedy voted for foreign aid cuts in President Eisenhower's program.

Typhoid Fever Remains Threat

LANSING (AP)—State Health Commissioner Albert Heustis warned today that typhoid fever remains as a potentially serious threat to the public—despite a dwindling in the number of cases reported each year.

A recent outbreak in Detroit illustrates the serious concern with which health authorities regard every reported case of typhoid.

The commissioner said the disease is potentially dangerous because a person can spread it without exhibiting any symptoms himself.

In some cases, he explained, typhoid victims are capable of infecting others up to a year or more after recovering from the disease.

He said there are 126 known carriers in Michigan.

No cases have been traced to a public water supply in the state since 1934.

Michigan averaged from 2,000 to 3,000 cases a year until about 1925. There were seven cases in 1961, he said.

School Bus Act Repeal Stalled

LANSING (AP)—A move to repeal Michigan's new "Parochial School Bus Act" has been stalled by the Lansing Board of Education.

A week ago, the board resolved unanimously to urge repeal of the law. But the board turned around Wednesday and voted 5-1 to reconsider their earlier motion.

Board members agreed their earlier action was "hasty and unnecessary" and asked for further study of how the law will affect Lansing.

Thomas Walsh, an attorney and member of the board, dissented in the move to reconsider the earlier motion, which he proposed.

Walsh opposed the law because he said it violates traditional dividing lines between church and state and because he contends the state is infringing upon local school boards' rights by passing such a law.

Both houses of the legislature passed the bill this spring by wide margins.

Curtis Asks New Butts Case Trial

ATLANTA (AP)—Attorneys for Curtis Publishing Co., seeking retrial of Wally Butts' libel suit, contended today the court erred in ruling out testimony about a woman they described as a companion of the former football coach.

The motion for a new trial was filed in U. S. District Court after Judge Lewis R. Morgan Thursday issued a stay of execution of the $3.6 million judgment awarded Butts by a jury last week.

Citing 23 grounds as error, Curtis attorneys asked that the verdict be set aside because of "gross excessiveness."

Butts, 58-year-old former athletic director at Georgia, sued for $10 million because of a Saturday Evening Post article charging that he and Coach Paul "Bear" Bryant of Alabama rigged a football game.

The motion said the court erred in refusing to admit testimony from a woman identified as "E. Smith" or "E. C. Smith" of Atlanta.

Attorney Welborn B. Cody, chief counsel for the publishing firm, and his associates contended they should have been permitted to question Butts about the woman and to call the woman as a witness. Pre-trial testimony was taken from her.

Such evidence, the attorneys argued, was admissible because it refuted Butts' testimony that he had never done anything to injure the University of Georgia; to mitigate damages and "to prove that the plaintiff was a corrupt man."

Other grounds cited by Curtis attorneys were "excessiveness of the verdict," abridgement of the publisher's rights and evidence of false testimony by a witness.

We Vote On Sept. 9

It must have been pretty hard to do, but the Escanaba Area Board of Education has managed to set up an election for school millage that is even more complicated than Michigan's bear season, which is so complex that even the bears can't understand it.

Actually the fault isn't the board's; it is in the legal red tape that wraps up tax balloting. The board, in attempting to meet the needs of the school district for buildings, must contend with the complex legal wrappings on the debts of the school districts which joined it in the consolidation several years ago.

These districts were the townships of Cornell and Ford River, which had new schools and bonded debts, and Wells, which had no debt. One of the proposals in the school election Monday, Sept. 9 in the Escanaba Area School District is to "consolidate" the big district's debts. This means to make the debts of Ford River and Cornell, incurred before consolidation, the debts of the whole new school district.

Thus the big district would pay off the old debts of its township units.

Until this is done there is a reluctance in Ford River and Cornell to vote for new debts of the Escanaba Area School District because they must pay their shares of such debts, plus their old individual debts.

Because of the legal contracts under which these township debts were incurred, Cornell's debt isn't callable (can't be repaid or refinanced) until 1966. The board's proposal is to levy 17/100 of a mill (17c on $1,000 of assessed valuation) until this debt is paid off in 1962, or refinanced.

It is also proposed that the voters authorize a levy of one quarter of one mill (25c per $1,000) for two years to clean up the Ford River debt. This levy and accumulated reserves would pay it off.

The Press urges a Yes vote on these proposals. When the area made a study which recommended consolidation of local school districts to provide better education, the townships were told that if they joined the City of Escanaba School District in the creation of the Escanaba Area School District, it would pool all the debts inherited in the consolidation and have the new district pay them. This is an obligation of honor as well as good sense and the foundation upon which the new district can give all its parts equal financial footing.

Also proposed on the Sept. 9 ballot—it has 5 propositions and it would take a Philadelphia lawyer to explain them—is a levy of two mills for 5 years to create a district school building and site sinking fund. This would put the Escanaba Area School District in "pay-as-you-go" school financing. It would collect money to buy school sites and put up school buildings and then it would spend the money for those purposes.

The present method of bonding and paying off the bonds while the school is used costs about as much in interest charges as the school costs. Pay-as-you-go is an economical way to finance school construction and the Area District needs some school construction. The Franklin School, in Escanaba, for instance, must be replaced because it's so unsafe that it has been closed.

The propositions seem to indicate that 4 mills instead of 2 are being voted for the building fund. That's because it's necessary both to raise the limitation on millage to permit an extra levy of 2 mills and then also to vote the 2 mills, but the maximum levy in Escanaba and Wells township for any taxpayer would be $2.42 per $1,000 (or 2.42 mills) for 5 years.

The maximum for Ford River Township voters would be $2.42 per $1,000 which would be a reduction of $1.78 from the present tax because they would unload their old debt, with its 4.2 mill levy.

The maximum for Cornell would be $2.42, which would be a reduction of $2.58 because it would unload its old debt levy of 5 mills.

The propositions are paired for legal reasons. The voter need only remember that if he votes yes on all of them he will pay off the school debts in Cornell and Ford River and create a fund that 5 years from now will have enough money to start a building program that will take care of half the district's needs in elementary schools.

There's a bargain feature. The tax won't apply for a year. This means that if Delta County taxpayers vote for a new mill on Sept. 30 (2 mills for one year) they will have it paid for and out of the way before the 2 mill tax to be voted Sept. 9 for a sinking fund will apply.

The Doctor Says:

Victim's Recovery Monitored

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.

Q—Why does a doctor want an electrocardiogram every two to four weeks when he doesn't give me any medicine for a heart condition?

A—The electrocardiogram greatly amplifies and records the electric currents that are associated with the muscular action of the heart.

Abnormalities of electric conduction in any part of the heart cause characteristic changes in the recorded waves.

This makes the ECG especially valuable in diagnosing different kinds of disturbed rhythm and damage to the heart muscle caused by blocking of one of the coronary arteries.

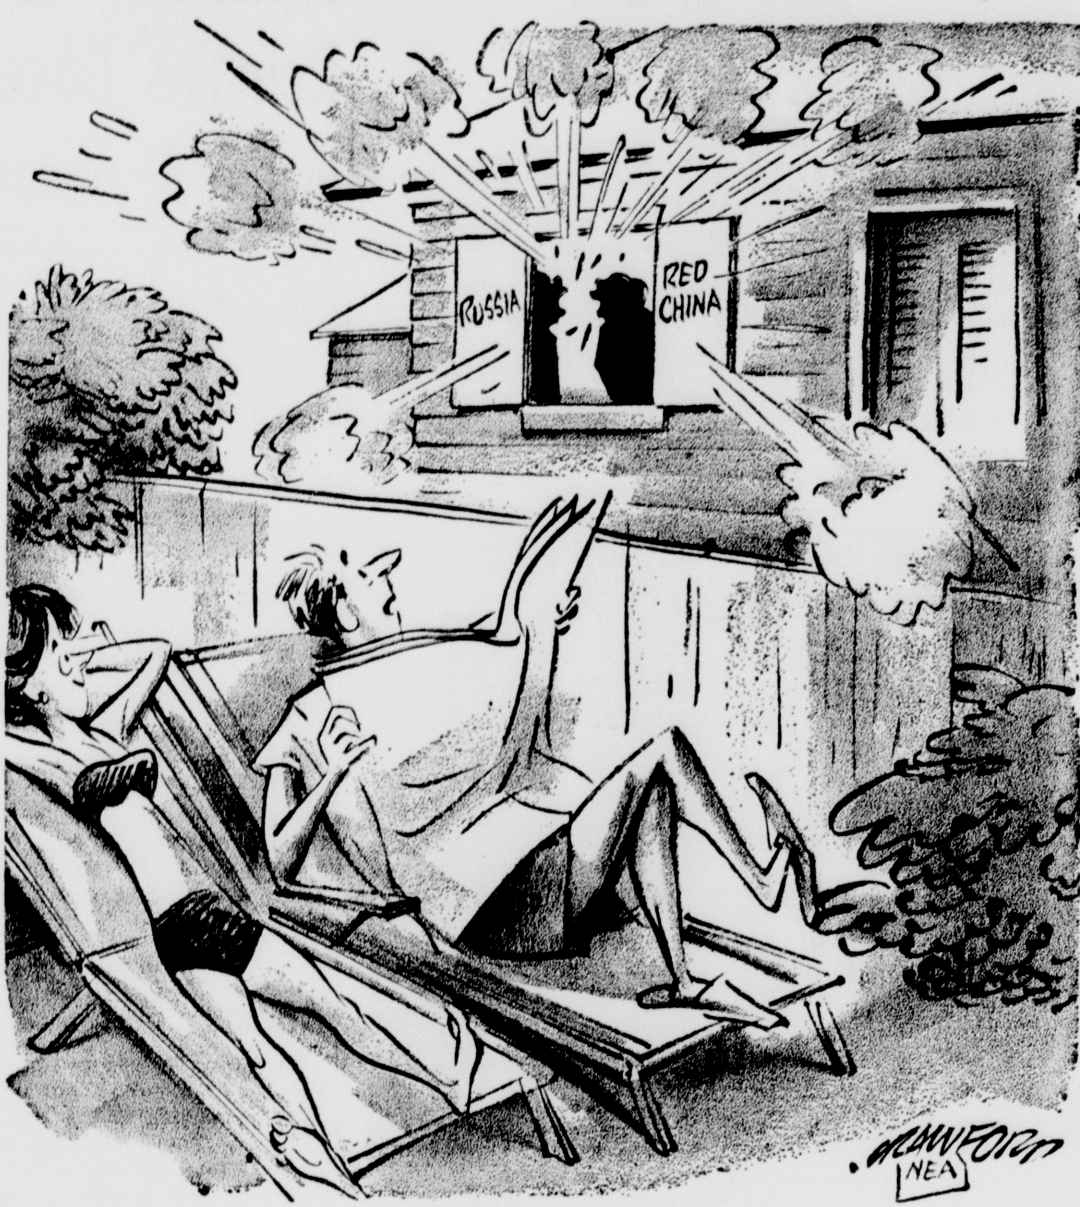

Unfortunately an ECG can in no way be used to predict a coronary heart attack but, after such an attack, it is of great value in following the progress of recovery.

For this reason, a series of ECGs would be requested. If you have had a coronary attack you will have had a period of bed rest with gradually increasing activity. Drugs are useful for some aspects of the treatment following an attack, but in many patients are not essential.

Q—What causes stones to form in the salivary glands? What can be done for them?

A—Salivary stones are caused by obstruction of the salivary duct, usually due to infection. The duct should be used. An orthopedic obstruction may cause the gland surgeon or a specialist in physical

"But Don't Forget, They Are Still Married!"

Edson In Washington So They Say

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The only safe prediction to make now on troubled Vietnam is that new United States ambassador, Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., is going to find Southeast Asia politics even tougher than trying to beat the Kennedy machine in Massachusetts.

While Washington has condemned Vietnamese President Ngo Dinh Diem's latest repressive actions against the Buddhists, there is reluctance to abandon him to his many enemies. If his declaration of martial law does not prevent it, or if Diem himself is not overthrown by a coup beforehand, Viet Nam is scheduled to elect a new one-chamber national assembly on Aug. 31. If held, it will be a peculiar election.

There are 350 candidates for 123 seats. Eighty per cent of the candidates are said to be "independents." Up to now, a big majority of the assembly has supported Diem and the National Revolutionary Movement he heads.

The Buddhists have no political party of their own and no candidates. But they have advocated boycotting the election, to show nonsupport of the Diem government. The Communists, as the National Liberation Front, tried this tactic in 1961 but failed.

Diem was overwhelmingly elected for a second five-year term as president, although when the French picked him to head a provisional government in 1954, they said he would not last six months. Washington thought so, too. But he is now entering the 10th year in office.

And the American position is that there is no better man in sight for the job.

Whether Diem can complete his term ending in 1966 is questionable, however. For a coup is feared from any one or a combination of the many elements opposing his regime.

For one, Diem's principal adviser, his brother Ngo Dinh Nhu, heads a Revolutionary Workers Party and there are reports of a power grab on his part. It is Nhu's beautiful wife Mme. Nhu who is the principal mouthpiece and cause of embarrassment. There are also socialist, democratic socialist and other splinter parties of opposition.

The most active opponent, of course, is the Communist Viet Cong, recruited and supplied by North Viet Nam, fighting guerrilla warfare in scattered pockets all over the country.

They tried to organize a revolt in 1959 but failed. They are still trying, first to neutralize the country, then to drive out what they call the "United States-Diem regime." Reunification with North Viet Nam under Ho Chi-minh is the ultimate aim.

President Diem's non-Communist opponents are put in numerous groups. Many of them are headed by former ministers of government whom Diem has fired as incompetents.

In a second category are leaders of militant sects that controlled private armies. When they lost their local power under Diem's nationalization program they fled the country. Some went to Cambodia, some to Paris. From these points they propagandize against Diem and for their return.

There are some military leaders in exile—backers of Col. Thi, who led his 500 paratroopers in a 1960 attack on the presidential palace. They were forced to flee by the loyalty of the regular army.

The military is still riddled by American advisers as a good army with increasing success over the last six months in fighting the Viet Cong and defending the strategic villages where three-fourths of the people live.

Diem's greatest trouble, comes from the Buddhists. Last May the government made the mistake of banning all flags except the national emblem, as part of a unification program. In a protest demonstration eight Buddhists were killed by security forces.

Buddhist protests have grown since and Mme. Nhu's comments made a bad situation worse. What the Buddhists want, in summary, is equal status with the Catholics. Diem has proposed new laws that would grant such rights. They will be taken up by the new National Assembly when it convenes Sept. 17. If he can stick it out till then, he has a chance.

Foreign aid hasn't been so many friends but it has helped to establish free and independent nations who are willing to fight to keep that freedom and independence. . . . Even if they are not our friends we can take satisfaction in the results—Gen. Lucius D. Clay.

Every American is entitled to be judged on his own, on the basis of his ability. . . . We lost the best of Satchel Paige to ghetto baseball; we need every Willie Mays we can find—George Meany, AFL-CIO president.

Wherever the public can attend, television should also be permitted to attend, so that it can serve as the eyes and ears of all the people—Robert W. Saroff, board chairman of RCA, saying television should be permitted in Congress and the courts.

The beauty of our American women should be rewarded, not taxed—Rep. Seymour Halpern, R-N.Y., urging repeal of 10 per cent excise tax on cosmetics.

The Church neither refuses nor prefers any form of government provided that it would be just and liable to procure the common good of its citizens—Pope Paul VI.

With Our Women

A few years ago one of a group of Escanaba women visiting an old friend at Delta Nursing Home, remarked, "If ever I should have to leave my own home, I can think of no place I would rather go."

This remark probably has been repeated by many, impressed with the happy atmosphere and shining cleanliness of the home. It is indeed a tribute to Mrs. Delia Peterson, a one woman bundle of cheery personality and efficiency, who is a licensed practical nurse and administrator of the Nursing Home.

Mrs. Peterson was born in St. Ignace, Sept. 14, 1904, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bloomquist. She attended high school in Marquette and took her Practical Nursing training at Northern Michigan University.

Her marriage to Dora Peterson of Ford River took place in Escanaba in 1921, and her husband died Feb. 2, 1960. The family group includes five children, Dora Peterson Jr. of Menominee Falls, Wis., Milton Wilbert Peterson, Rochester, Mich., Mrs. Raymond (Dorothy) Long, Escanaba, John Allen Peterson, Gladstone, and Mrs. Rudy (Donna) Sydmark, Escanaba.

Before becoming administrator of Delta Nursing Home, she was a home products saleswoman and a nurse at St. Francis Hospital.

She is active in church and organization programs, a member of Bethany Lutheran parish, Lutheran Church Women of America, R. C. Hatheway Chapter 49, Order of the Eastern Star, of which she was named Worthy Matron, White Shrine of Jerusalem, Altrusa Club International, and a Past Noble Grand of Phoebe Rebekah Lodge, in addition to her affiliation with Michigan Practical Nurses Association and National Association for Practice Nurse Education Service Inc.

Her one hobby? It is bridge.

Markets Offer Holiday Foods This Weekend

By The Associated Press

The nation's supermarkets are cooperating to help take the labor out of meal-fixing this Labor Day weekend.

Hamburger and ground beef are widely featured for quick meals. Hams, picnics and Boston butts are easily prepared pork items. Chicken fryers are another entry in the simple meal derby.

Sandwich items include canned tuna and peanut butter. Eggs, especially small ones, are economically priced for egg-salad this weekend.

Those desiring a season-end cookout will find an ample supply of rib steaks and spareribs at meat counters.

Small turkeys and quartered turkeys are other economical dishes that lend themselves to oven or grill preparation.

Vegetable selections continue broad, though some items are diminishing as the summer peak wanes. Best buys nationally include green beans, cabbage, topped carrots, celery, bell peppers, tomatoes, cucumbers, potatoes, onions and lettuce.

Regional vegetable features include eggplant in the Northeast, blackeye peas and squash in the Southwest and artichokes and broccoli on the West Coast.

Among fruits, watermelon and cantaloupe are still the best buys. Other attractions include nectarines, peaches and plums, with some areas getting a good supply of apples. Grapefruit is attractively priced in the West.

Grape bargains will become increasingly attractive in price in coming weeks as a bumper crop comes to market.

Briefly Told

State Police are investigating the larceny of automobile parts from a car owned by Gerald Cameron of 221 1/2 N. 18th St., Escanaba. Cameron told officers the car was parked at a home in Schaffer that he had moved from one week ago. When he returned to get the car, which he intended to use for parts, he found the transmission, drive-shaft and rear end had been stolen. The car was a 1949 Ford.

State Police ticketed the following motorists for traffic violations: Arthur E. Hook, 411 Ludington St., driving wrong way on one-way road; and Bernadette Thomas, Flat Rock, for disregarding a flashing red light.

Auto Mishap Injures Two

Two persons sustained minor injuries in an automobile accident that occurred at 2:30 p. m. Thursday at the intersection of U. S. 2-41 and County Road 426, near the Buck Inn.

Injured were: Mrs. Lucille Kruger, 49, of Milwaukee, a passenger in a car driven by her husband, who suffered a bruise on the forehead; and Lucille Weisert, 66, of 1110 Delta Ave., Gladstone, driver of one of the cars, who received cuts on the legs and complained of a sore back. Neither of the two were hospitalized.

According to State Police, both cars were traveling south on D. S. 2-41 when the car driven by Mrs. Weissert started to make a left-hand turn. Robert Kruger, 49, driver of the second car, told officers he thought the Weissert car would clear before he had reached it, but that it didn't. He said he applied his brakes, but it had just finished raining and he slid into the rear of the Weissert vehicle.

Damage to the Kruger car was minor, however the Weissert vehicle was damaged extensively. Kruger was ticketed for violation of the basic speed law, failure to have his car under control.

Ann Landers

Baby Not Wanted

Dear Ann Landers: Our 23-year-old daughter was married last spring. She is expecting a baby in November.

Both she and her husband have two more years of college. She is working on her master's degree, he on his Ph. D.

Last week my daughter told me that she and her husband had decided to give up their child for adoption. She says the doctor will handle all the details and she is not going to even see the baby. Her reason for doing this is that both she and her husband want to finish their education and with a baby it would be impossible.

I am horrified and have told her so, but I can't seem to reach her. These are intelligent, decent young people. Ann, they would be wonderful parents. I have offered to take the baby and she said "No, if we see the baby we would want to keep it."

Please help me persuade her against doing this terrible thing—NO WORDS LEFT

Dear No Words: Your observation that "They would be wonderful parents" is incorrect. The prime requisite for successful parenthood is to want a child. These two "intelligent, decent" people don't qualify.

Of course, it's a dreadful thing they are considering and they will probably regret it later, but this is their decision to make. I earnestly hope—with you, my dear—that they will change their minds, but now that you've let them know how you feel, stay out of it.

Dear Ann Landers: We have two teenagers who are driving their father and me crazy. They are both above average in intelligence but when we leave them alone for more than 10 minutes they try to kill each other. The girl is 15 and the boy is 16.

To listen to them bicker and pick at each other you'd think they were 5 and 4. If something isn't done about their fighting soon my husband threatens to move to a hotel.

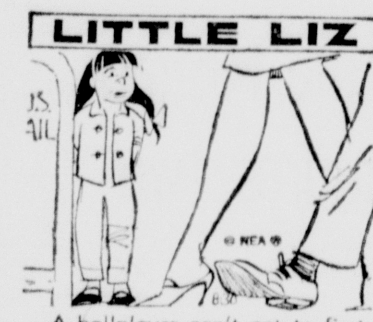

Last night when we came home from a meeting the girl had a bloody nose and the boy showed us a handful of hair that she had pulled out of his head. The mirror in the dining room was cracked. She had thrown something at him and missed.

I've talked to them till I'm blue in the face. I've threatened, begged and punished in every possible way. Nothing helps. My best friend who is a very smart woman says it's natural for a brother and a sister to have disagreements. Please help. — BATTLE WEARY

Dear Weary: It IS natural for a brother and a sister to have disagreements, but your two are trying to kill each other.

Such hostility in the mid-teens is a symptom of deep-seated emotional problems. When a boy and a girl at 15 and 16 are so full of hostility that they must resort to physical violence, it means they both need professional help.

Dear Ann Landers: That boy who kissed his sweetheart with his eyes open—that was me, 20 years ago. I wasn't even aware I was doing it and considered it perfectly normal. I don't remember ever seeing anything.

A ballplayer can't get to first base if he doesn't have two good legs, and neither can a girl.

Rather than mention it and make me self-conscious, my brainy wife simply brushed my eyelids with her fingertips. What I believed was a gesture of tenderness was a signal to turn off the headlights.

No please print this letter and give the girl a helping hand. I think my wife's system is infinitely more romantic than saying, "What are you looking at, Bub?" —BLINDED BY LOVE

Dear Blinded: I agree—and let's hope she sees this.

MORTY MEEKLE

Luck Tells Fate Of TV Offerings

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—There are no bad television shows. Some are just luckier than others.

At least that's the way it seems if one listens to discussions by producers, directors and stars. The most common cause of program mortality appears to be an ailment called "bad time slot." This means that if a program failed in the late evening, it would have succeeded in the early evening. Or vice versa. Or that, if it died on a Monday night, it would have been the hit of the year on a Thursday.

Usually, however, it means that it was murdered by the competing program which attracted most of the viewers.

Never has a program died because it was too bad for the public. But television's Boot Hill is heavily populated with series that succumbed because, it is alleged, they were "too good for the public."

Two program deaths last season were attributed to this fatal ailment: "It's a Man's World" and the "Merv Griffin Show." By general agreement, the best television horse opera made was a short-lived series called "The Westerner." It succumbed, according to most expert diagnoses, because, the same experts assert, they were too fanciful.

Now, on the eve of a new television season, schedules are being studied meticulously, and chances for survival of new shows are being anxiously weighed. Some—a very few—will be hits and some will quietly disappear. Survival will be attributed, as usual, to superior quality. Failure, as usual, will be nothing but bad luck, poor position or that unappreciative public.

Arthur Godfrey will do a special for NBC—a Thanksgiving program. The veteran performer, after all those years as a CBS star, now is free to make television appearances on other networks, and is anxious to get a regular, weekly series.

MAX'S RAGTIME IMAGE

DENVER (AP)—Max Morath, who plays ragtime piano for television programs and recordings, always appears with a cigar clenched in his teeth.

He says he hates cigars, but they "contribute to the image."

Traverse City To Bus Students Of Rural Areas

TRAVERSE CITY (AP)—The Board of Education reversed an earlier ruling and decided Wednesday to furnish bus transportation for some 1,400 rural students who attend Traverse City schools.

The board had voted earlier this month to abandon a school bus service as part of an austerity program. Wednesday's change does not affect Traverse City children.

Novak said 3,400 pupils living in the city still will be without bus transportation when classes begin next week.

Novak described the rural students as "reimbursable" because state school aid covers part of the cost of transporting them.

Blueberry Bog Burned Causes Anxious Minutes

The rains came last night to complicate the problems of Conservation Department men burning a blueberry bog in the 7 Mile Marsh in the Menominee State Forest, but worse than that, the wind shifted after the fire had been set on the south side.

There were some anxious moments among the fire control forces when the wind, which had been blowing from the south, turned about and blew toward the south, but the fire was kept in bounds with some effort and 150 acres of the bog were burned before last night's rain extinguished the fire.

A part of the project burn area in the northwest corner was not burned and may be torched later, but the experiment appeared generally successful. It is part of an Upper Peninsula project to restore bogs to heavy blueberry production as a recreation and food resource.

The back burn area on the north side of the project was set afire at noon Thursday because of a weather forecast which predicted rain on Friday. The burn earlier had been set for today. About 4 p. m., the wind change threatened to throw the fire into bog area to the south which had not been bounded with fire breaks.

Durov's marsh to the south of the Thursday burn area has been prepared with fire breaks for burning in a similar project.

Mine Blast Toll 18; 7 Are Found Alive

inspected the mine daily for gas, ventilation and roof conditions. Steve Hatis, state mine inspector, said a state inspector had been assigned to the mine and that he had heard of nothing improper.

State records show 10 inspections had been made since May 24 1961. Three were investigations of fatal accidents. There also was a fourth accident.

Three Preventable

The U.S. Bureau of Mines said it also probed the four fatal accidents, and said three were preventable. The bureau said the fourth involved an outburst of rock, which "is not entirely controllable."

But the bureau assigned three scientists to the mine to study and measure rock stresses.

"These three men had just come off shift before the explosion occurred and narrowly escaped with their own lives," the bureau said.

Casper A. Nelson, safety inspector for the Utah Industrial Commission, said some of the 18 victims apparently were killed instantly others died later of carbon monoxide poisoning.

Bodies of three men were found with their heads in a ventilation pipe, a vain effort to get air.

Frank Tippie, general manager for Texas Gulf here, said bodies of the victims were so disfigured identification will be difficult.

Tippie rejected claims safety precautions were lax. "I think we have maintained good safety regulations all along, and I think we'll tend to be even more careful after this," he said.

Menominee River Meet Mystifies

LANSING (AP) — The federal government has called a conference on pollution of the Menominee River—much to the puzzlement of the Michigan Water Resources Commission.

Lorin Oeming, executive secretary of the commission, said he has encountered a blank wall in all efforts to discover the reason for the meeting, set for Nov. 6 in Menominee by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

As far as Michigan is concerned, Oeming said, "we know of no pollution contributed to these waters which is endangering health or welfare" in either Michigan or Wisconsin.

The Menominee River forms the Michigan-Wisconsin border from the confluence of the Brule and Michigan rivers to its outlet into Green Bay at Menominee.

Despite the mystery, the commission Thursday voted to send Oeming and its chairman, Irving Ronk, to the conference.

Oeming told commissioners the meeting did not originate from any complaint from a Michigan or Wisconsin agency as far as he has been able to determine.

He said he got no results from inquiries to the federal agency or to Wisconsin officials.

The conference will be conducted by the U.S. Public Health Service under the Federal Pollution Control Act.

The Menominee is the first river in the lakes states to be acted upon by the Public Health Service, although that agency has been making studies of the Detroit River-Lake Erie area as the result of a 1962 conference called by former Gov. John Swainson.

Oeming said pollution in the Brule River last year was eliminated by a state-industry program and termination of acid mine-waters being pumped into the river.

Veronica Lake In Off Broadway Show

NEW YORK (AP) — Veronica Lake, who became a movie sensation in the 1940s with her peeka-boos, returned to acting Thursday night.

"I was scared silly," said Miss Lake after the performance, her debut on the New York stage.

"But it was great, damn, it's great to be back."

When she came on stage midway in the first act of "Best Foot Forward" at the off-Broadway Stage 73 Theater, applause stopped the action momentarily.

In the musical comedy, a revival of the 1940 Broadway hit, she plays Gale Joy, a tarnished movie queen whose star has begun to set.

Veronica, who once earned $4,500 a week, also is trying to start a comeback.

Food Fair also bought the reserve champion steer, a 945-pound Angus owned by John Sheridan of Plymouth, for 40 cents a pound and the grand champion of the junior show, a 1,000-pound Hereford owned by Duane Kaatz of Mount Clemens, for 50 cents a pound.

W. F. Carbine, the Bureau's regional director at Ann Arbor, says investigations will begin in September in Oahe Reservoir.

Landis Jailed For Tax Cheat

NEW YORK (AP)—James M. Landis, former dean of the Harvard Law School, was sentenced to 30 days in prison today on income tax charges.

Federal District Judge Sylvester J. Ryan ordered that the term be served immediately.

"The sooner he serves the sentence, the better it will be for the defendant," the judge said.

Landis, who had held high positions in the federal government, pleaded guilty Aug. 2 to a five-count information charging that he failed to file "timely" income tax returns for the years 1956 through 1960.

The taxes since have been paid. The defense contended that Landis was so engrossed in public affairs and the affairs of his clients he had "neglected" his own personal matters, including the income tax returns.

Standing with Kennedy at an impromptu press conference, Gen. Lucius Clay said that in slicing $600 million from the aid authorization bill, the House has "gone too far and seriously endangered the program."

Clay, chairman of a committee that recommended gradual reduction of aid programs earlier this year, said he was particularly disturbed about reductions in funds for military assistance and the Alliance For Progress.

The Alliance For Progress involves aid for Latin America.

King Strang Paper Gets New Owner

CHARLEVOIX (AP) — Albert Schaller, publisher of The Daily Petoskey News-Review, assumes control Sept. 1 of the Charlevoix Courier, oldest weekly newspaper in Charlevoix County.

The transaction was announced by Harold M. Totten, managing editor of the Charlevoix publication the last six years.

The Courier was established in the 1880s by Charles Strang, son of Mormon "King" James Jesse Strang who had published the first newspaper north of Grand Rapids in his "reign" on Beaver Island in the 1850s.

Schaller plans to form a new corporation, The Charlevoix Courier Inc., to become a subsidiary of The Northern Michigan Review Inc., which operates the Petoskey paper. He said Tom Daniels, advertising manager of The Ingham County News at Mason, is joining the Courier staff in the same capacity.
